Why Form a Company in Nevada

Nevada has the 35th largest population in the United States and Nevada has a thriving business community. Nevada is following in the footsteps of the corporate haven, Delaware with its incorporation laws.

Incorporating in the state of Nevada offers business owners significant benefits, such as no taxes on shares and no corporate income tax. LLCs provide limited liability protection to their owners (members), who are usually not personally responsible for the business debts the limited liability company. Creditors cannot pursue the personal assets (house, savings accounts, etc.) of the owners to pay for business debts.

A Nevada company formation is an effective tool for both US and non-US nationals. Non-US nationals are able to consider forming a Nevada company to optimise their tax and protect their assets.

When a Nevada company is formed by non-US residents and generating no income in the USA, the company can be used as an offshore vehicle which allows tax liabilities to be avoided within the USA. This makes Nevada a popular place to incorporate when clients are not resident in the US.

When you complete a Nevada Company Registration, you can enjoy the highest state privacy levels. Unlike many other US states, Nevada formations do not require a list of the owners' names to be filed with the state.

Tax Information for your Nevada Company Registration

Nevada is among the most popular US states to incorporate a company due to the great asset protection and limited liability protection it has for its Shareholders, Officers and Directors.

Within a Nevada Limited Liability Company, the earnings flow directly to the owners of the company, this eliminates corporate income taxes.

A Nevada Company has literally no state taxes, including no corporate income tax, no personal income tax, no franchise tax on income, no admissions tax, and no estate tax or gift tax. This makes Nevada a competitive jurisdiction to incorporate a company.

If you have formed a Nevada company and reside elsewhere but the company operates in another state, you may still be subject to the other states requirements, depending on how the company is organised.

Company Name

As the company type is a limited liability company, the company name must end with Corporation, LLC or Limited Liability Company.

When choosing a company name for a Nevada company formation, you must ensure that all words within the name are in English.

Company names must be unique and must not be similar to another company registered in Nevada. The use of bank, trust, insurance or reinsurance within the name of the company may require approval from the authorities in Nevada.

Directors, Shareholders and Secretary

A minimum of one company director and shareholder is required within a Nevada company formation. The officers of a Nevada company do not need to be resident in Nevada and the Nevada company formation can be completed remotely.

The meetings of the directors and shareholders can be held in any country.

The Directors are required to file their information with the authorities in Nevada, and these details are displayed on public records.

Please note that if the company has a complex corporate structure, an additional compliance fee may apply.

Share Capital

There is no paid up share capital requirement in Nevada as members are appointed. Therefore, there is no actual Share capital.
